

DESERTING THEIR PARTY.

W-JERSEY DEMOCRATS REFUSE TO INDORSE THE CHICAGO PLATFORM.

LONG LIST OF ACCESSIONS TO THE REPUBLICAN SANKS-JERSEY CITY'S REMARKABLE AR-RAY OF BOLTERS-NEWARK BUSI-NESS MEN DECLARE AGAINST

BRYAN AND FREE SILVER. The more the Democrats of New-Jersey conemplate the ticket and platform presented to them by the Chicago Convention the more dissusted they become with the present doctrines of the party to which they have professed allegance. Every day there are new recruits added to the Republican forces, and the influence of the holters is spreading with such far-reaching effect that the party bosses are in dispair. Jersey City, where the leaders at first were reticent. w contributes a long list of recalcitrants who declare they will vote for McKinley and sound money, and other cities are falling into line.

The action of the two National Conventions has had a remarkable influence on the political preferences of Jersey City manufacturers and merchants. Susiness men who were suspected of being Democrats are evidently so thoroughly ashamed of the tion of the Administration and the Chicago Conention that they declare now that they are Republeans with a sang froid that would give the impression that they had always been identified with the Republican party.

A Tribune reporter made a tour of the principal siness thoroughfares in quest of Democrats who sould not support the Chicago platform or its andidates. The stereotyped reply was, "I'm a Republican." A few were found who admitted they are, or had been Democrats, but me majority of these refused to express an opinas to how they would vote next November me merchant remarked that it would be unwise give his views, as it might interfere with traffic nd keep customers away from him. "Heaven news," he said, "business is so dull that we canafford to lose a patron. I have a positive opina about the political aspect and would like to press it, but it will be more profitable, I guess, bottle my opinion."

The dissatisfaction of the Democrats can be imated accurately when the politicians of that with holding office boldly declare that they cannot support the platform or nominees. There are e Democrats holding county office in Hudson bunty, and all three are against Bryan and silver. one Democrat holds an important city office and he will not vote for the silver candidate. The emocratic bankers are a unit for gold, and will ote for McKinley, and the professional men who have been active Democrats are out for McKinley. Chancellor McGill and the Judges of the County ourts have naturally refrained from expressing their views on the situation, but Chancellor Mcill's humorous remark, made on the bench prior to the nomination of Bryan, to the effect that "in November next there may be no Democrats in the East," is regarded generally as his sentiments. His brother, Surgeon-General John D. McGill, always an ardent Democrat, has, to use his own words, "decided to swallow the less nauseous dose and vote for honest money and McKinley." A list is appended of a few of the prominent Democrats who have announced that they will vote for

Judge J. D. Beadle, Controller George Hough, Prosecutor C. H. Winfield, Register George R. Fielder, Surrogate James H. O'Nell, Commissioner James G. Hasking, Trustee Stephen L. Harvey. LAWYERS.

General W. C. Heppenheimer, Thomas F. Noonan, Otto Crouse, William H. Speer, George Tennant, John Mulvaney, Robert Carey, John F. Marion. BANKERS. E. F. C. Young, J. Warren Hardenbergh, James Clark, William Clark.

MANUFACTURING JEWELLERS. Charles Krugier, Louis Demmert. DRUGGISTS.

George W. C. Phillips, George C. Fountain. EDITOR.

PHYSICIANS. John D. McGill, Leonard J. Gordon, Mortimer Lampson, Benjamin Edge, H. H. Brinkerhoff jr.

DRYGOODS. Myron Furst. CLOTHIER. Robert Weinman. WHOLESALE GROCER.

CIVIL ENGINEER. Garwood Ferris.

Daniel Cleary.

AUCTIONEER. Frederick G. Walbert BOOT AND SHOE DEALER. Emanuel Sands.

Sound money has won the following Democrate wer to the support of the Republican ticket: Edwin A. Raynor, lawyer.
Warren S. Truesdell, banker.
Oscar Keen, lawyer.
Charles Lehibach, physician.
Edward Zusi, manufacturer.
A. C. Denman, lawyer.
W. S. Righter, alderman.
Joseph Walbrooke, manufacturer.

NEWARK.

TRENTON.

The following Democrats are now listed as mem bers of the Republican party, at least so far as the National nomineers are concerned: Gardner Cain, lawyer. Thomas F. Fitzgerald, Editor "Sunday Adveriser."

W. E. Gilbert, caterer,
W. H. Micket, physician,
Charles P. Broiton, physician,
J. H. Blackwell, wholesale grocer,
C. H. Smith, editor "Times."
E. C. Stahl, editor "Staats Journal."
Samuel Nary Insert. Samuel Naar, lawyer.
J. H. Harding, Clerk Tax Adjusting Commission.

David A. Naar, frescoer.
David A. Naar, frescoer.
William Backus, lawyer.
Martin Keegan, City Assessor.
Holt W. Angar, lawyer.
Lewis Parker, banker.
John H. Scudder, banker.
Joseph Johnson, hide dealer.
Samuel Y. Foster, councilman.
John P. Murphy, wholesale liquor dealer.
John T. Bird, lawyer. ELIZABETH.

These Democrats openly declare that they will bilt the ticket of the Chicago Convention:

The Rev. Dr. Kempshall.
James Maguire, banker.
Charles P. Russ, confectioner.
William P. Ward, restaurateur.
John W. Whelan, City Treasurer.
Seymour Van Nostrand, capitalist.
P. H. Gilhooley, lawyer.

ORANGE. The following Democrats have recently an-Sunced that they propose to vote for McKinley ad Hobart:

Robert N. Drew, hat manufacturer.
Mathan C. Horton, lawyer and ex-City Counsel,
Hamilton Wallis, lawyer.
Henry Hart, broker.
H

SOMERSET AGAINST SILVER. MOCRATIC PAPERS BOLT THE TICKET AND

DRUGER LEADERS REPUDIATE THE PLATFORM. merville, July 19 (Special).-There is a strong the Somerset Messenger," which, for seventy-five an, has never been known to bolt a Democratic cet, refuses to place the names of the Chicago cet at the head of its columns. Moreover, it may be contained to be a chicago Convention was meant to be a chicago Convention was meant to be a chicago Democratic Convention, but Democrats had borne the heat and burden of the day the ticket. It refuses to place the names of Bryan and Sewall at the top of its columns and says:

"Already we hear the rumblings of disaster fast approaching us, and we fear that the Chicago Convention has sown the wind and that the people will reap the whirlwind."

"The Bound Brook Democrat" will support the ticket. While there are a large number of farmers who are infected with the sliver craze in both the parties, yet there is no doubt that the county will give a good round majority for sound money. Ex-Prosecutor James J. Mechan is the only one of the Democratic leaders who openly expresses sympathy for the silver platform.

SHE SUES THE MINISTER.

AN UNLUCKY INVESTMENT TAKEN INTO THE COURTS.

WARS. S. G. HAWKINS WANTS TO RECOVER $750 FROM THE REV. DR GLAZEBROOK, OF ELIZABETH—THE LATTER EXPLAINS HIS CON-NECTION WITH THE AFFAIR.

THE DEMOCRACY DEAD IN NEWARK. PARTY LEADERS ARE UNABLE TO RAISE EN-

THUSIASM FOR THE CHICAGO TICKET. Although the Essex County Democratic Committee, by a vote of 53 to 11, indorsed the Chicago plat-form and candidates, not the least effort has been made to organize a campaign in Newark and the

The two men who stand at the head of the county organization, direct its movements and provide the noney, are Senator Smith and Gottfried Krueger. The former is on his way to Europe, after leaving an encouraging note for Chairman E. L. Price, of the County Committee. What he will do upon his return in September will depend entirely upon the aspect of affairs at that time. Gottfried Krueger has declared emphatically that he will not supp the ticket, and no help is expected from him. s there any love lost between Krueger and Price When the latter was a candidate for appointment as City Counsel he was opposed by Krueger, who openly criticised him. whole responsibility for the initial campaign in the county rests, therefore, upon Chairman Price. The rank and file of the party are either opposed to the Chicago ticket, or indifferent While the Republicans are rapidly organizing clubs and swinging out campaign banners, no clubs are being formed by the Democrats, and no banner has yet been raised. Not a single club has indorsed the Chicago ticket. The Jeffersonian Club is the representative party rganization. Senator Smith is a member of it. There is a membership of about three hundred. The club has taken no notice of the party nomina-

There is a membership of about three hundred. The club has taken no notice of the party nominations. When Cleveland was nominated, four years ago, the club hung cut a handsome banner and enthusiastically ratified the nomination.

Almost without exception, the German Democrats are opposed to the ticket. The "Deutsche Zeitung," the Democratic local paper, has come out in opposition, and every newspaper in the city has taken the same course. In the Oranges the same conditions exist. In Bloomfield, Montclair, Franklin, Clinton, Millburn and other townships the Democracy is lifeless. In not a single township has a club or other organization imitated the action of the County Committee, and in all of them prominent Democrats are in open revolt, many of them declaring their intention to yote for McKinley. "Speaking for Essex County," said a member of the Jeffersonian Club yesterday, "there will be practically no campaign here, no matter what the State Convention may do. New-Jersey Democrats are said to be part Bourbons; that is, they stick by party, thick or thin, as an organization, and therefore I expect, unloss there is a decided reaction, that organization and discipline and precedent and tradition will prevail, and that the convention will give a quast indorsement of the Chicago candidates, but it won't go down with individual voters. It was bad enough an outlook for us, anyhow, with the tariff issue, and free silver gives McKinley a walkover."

This expresses the sentiment of nearly all the intelligent Democrats in Essex County, and it is the view that prevents the Jeffersonian Club from giving any recognition to the Chicago ticket. One thing has been determined on, however. It is to insure the nomination of a sound-money man in the Vith Congress District, which comprises Newark and East Orange.

A NEW REPUBLICAN CLUB IN HOBOKEN.

The Young Men's Republican Club of Hoboken expects to do valiant service in the Democratic Fourth Ward of that city in the coming cam-The association meets every Thursday t Grand and Newark sts. The officers of the club were installed as follows at the last meeting: President, Joseph J. Kennedy; vice-president, Isaac Kohlmann; recording secretary, P. A. Sullivan; financial secretary, James B. Cannon; treasurer, Edward Rathjen.

UNGALLANT ROBBERS THESE.

ATTEMPT TO HOLD UP WOMEN IN THE STREETS OF DOVER.

Dover, July 19 (Special).-An unsuccessful attempt was made last night to rob three women in the main street of this city.

Mrs. Mohler, wife of Charles Mohler, the electrician of the Dover Electric Light Company; Mrs. Bryant Hedden, and Mrs. George Hedden were walking down Blackwell-st. when they were confronted by two men, one of whom made an assault upon Mrs. by two men, one of whom made an assault upon Mrs. Mohler, attempting to get possession of her pocket-book. The second commanded silence on the part of the other woman, threatening them with bodily harm if the least outcry was made. The command was not obeyed, and men in Blackwell-st., hearing the screams of the frightened women, quickly came to their assistance, frightening the footpads, who escaped in the darkness.

A GIANT HOLLANDER'S BRUTALITY.

HE ATTEMPTS TO MURDER HIS WIFE, AND NAR ROWLY ESCAPES BEING MOBBED.

Paterson, July 19 (Special).-The new Holland district north of the Passaic River had a genuine scare last night, when 300 people chased Cornellus Van Der Groef, a giant Hollander, several blocks, shouting "Lynch him!" "Police!" "Stop that man!" "Kill the murderer!" The fugitive was run down and rescued from the mob by the police reserve. Van Groef had left his wife, who is in a delicate condition, insensible on the kitchen floor, bleeding from a dozen ugly wounds on the head and her face badly bruised.

Van Der Groef had been drinking heavily for a week. His wife has fled several times to escape a cruel beating, and yesterday morning she was advised to make a complaint, but refused. He re-turned last evening, and finding her preparing supper, suddenly attacked her, beating her to the floor with his fists. Her cries brought several women to the kitchen window, opening on the yard. They saw the giant hurl a tea kettle of boiling water over his wife and then throw the kettle at her head. It missed the mark, and, as the woman staggered toward the window. Van Der Groef seized the fainting woman by the throat and rained blow after blow upon her head with a coffee pot. Every time it descended it left a gash. Van Der Groef was covered with blood from his wife's gaping wounds.

The women at the window had been screaming lustily, and as Mrs. Van Der Groef sank to the floor Van Der Groef knocked door from its hinges. attempted to bar his way, and ran into the street. The men pursued him to the corner, where he The men pursued him to the corner, where he stopped and drew a knife. Women overhead began throwing coal from their windows, and throngs of men, women and children joined the pursuers. Van Der Groef darted up Holsman-st., ran across North Main-st. to Bergen, and was surrounded in an empty lot, with the river behind him. His huge Newfoundland dog now appeared as his defender, and when John B. Makepeace led the mob forward the dog buried its teeth in his leg. Van Der Groef was in the centre of a throng showering stones and sticks upon him. Patrolman Perry fought his way to his side, and the wife-beater crouched behind him until the patrol wagon arrived with the reserve. Recorder Senior committed him to jail at once to await the result of his wife's injuries. Mrs. Van Der Groef appeared in court this morning with her head swathed in bandages. Van Der Groef was remanded, in default of $1,000 bail, charged with assault with intent to kill. Van Der Groef was overjoyed when he saw his wife alive. He believed he had killed her.

SALOON LICENSES AT LONG BRANCH. Long Branch, July 19 (Special).-The Commissioners will hold a special meeting within a few weeks to decide whether they will take up the granting of saloon licenses, which are now granted by the Monmouth County courts at Freehold. Mayor Biodgett was instructed last night to get a legal opinion on the law. Many of the saloonkeepers who were refused a license last May by Judge Conover are still anxious to secure licenses, and the subject has been brought up by them.

THE NEW SEASIDE HOME BUILDING. Long Branch, July 19 (Special).-The Sunday afternoon services at the Seaside Home were of an unusually interesting nature. The new building was usually interesting nature. The new building was opened for the first time, and many cottagers interested in the success of the Home were present to witness the exercises. John P Duncan, of New-York, who is summering at Scabright, presided. The principal address was made by the Rev. Maithand Alexander, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The Home, which is run in connection with Dr. Hall's church. New-York, shelters hundreds of poor children during the summer, who receive a two weeks' outing gratuitously.

A VICIOUS DOG ATTACKS A WOMAN. Mrs. Annie Scott, of No. 42 Spring-st., West Hoboken, was attacked by a savage Newfoundland dog, owned by Mrs. Markley, a neighbor, near her home to-night and was terribly bitten. The animal jumped at the woman, and bore her to the sidewalk tast saide and a set of amateurs, mugwumps, substa. Socialists and long-haired cranks gentless some control."

The Somerset Democrat." not so old as its control, but always on the Democratic side, is on the fence for the present, hardly that which way to jump, but inclined to boit important to a hospital will be necessary.

NECTION WITH THE AFFAIR.

Elizabeth, July 19 (Special).-The Rev. Dr. Otis A. Glazebrook, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, has been sued in the Union County Circuit Court recover $750 due on a promissory note made by the clergyman three years ago. The note fell due on June 28, but there was no money in the bank to meet it, and then she decided to appeal to the

Mrs. Hawkins holds two other notes signed by the clergyman, one for $1,000, which falls due next July, and another for $2,000, which will be due in July, 1898.

Dr. Glazebrook originally obtained $5,000 from Mrs. Hawkins, giving her his five personal notes for the amount. He has paid her $1,250 of this sum. She says that Dr. Glazebrook, some years ago, wanted her to go into a scheme known as the New-Jersey Investment Company. She says he told her that four other persons had agreed to advance $5,000 each toward the enterprise. She consulted her lawyer, Judge Gilhooly, and he told her to take, not the company's note, but Dr. Glazebrook's personal acknowledgment for the money.

Mrs. Hawkins is now in straitened circumstances and wants her money. Her husband was formerly quartermaster of the 3d New-Jersey Regiment, and was superintendent of stables in New-York under Colonel Waring, but lost his place some time ago. Mrs. Hawkins says that she is the only one, so far vestment scheme. Others, she asserts, did not Sea Girt, July 19 (Special) -Dr. Glazebrock, who is chaplain of the 3d Regiment, when seen in his tent at Camp Griggs to-night in reference to Mrs. Hawkins's suit, said: "Mrs. Hawkins has sued me which I gave the lady some years ago, upon the understanding that I should pay the same when able. The lady holds $3,000 against me in other notes not yet due.

"For you to understand the case, I must tell you a story. When the Southern land boom was in it. a story, when the Southern land boom was in its zenith the city authorities of Laredo, Tex. offered me 5.000 c ty lots if I would locate a $100,000 cotton factory in the city. I didn't have the money, and, understanding that S. G. Hawkins, husband of the lady who sues me, was a wealthy man, I informed him of the contract I had with Laredo. I knew him well; he was quartermaster of this regiment. We formed the New-Jersey Investment Company, and Mr. Hawkins became secretary, advancing $5,000, and this money was paid in a check signed by Mrs. Hawkins. The scheme failed, and Mrs. Hawkins ame to me for her money. While neither legally nor even morally bound, I felt that, since I had suggested this scheme, and Mrs. Hawkins's money had been speet, she should get it back. "Became of my cloth. I promised to buy Hawkins's $5,000 stock in the practically abandoned company. Not having this money, I could only offer my notes, which I did, agreeing to take the stock and pay 6 per cent interest on the notes until they were paid. They were dated one, two and three years. I eventually paid $1,250, and Mrs. Hawkins refused to renew the notes, so the suit followed. Had I not been a clerkyman, I doubt if I should ever have agreed to pay the $5,000, for we all understood the money invested was Mr. Hawkins's own cash, and as secretary of the company he drew fully $1,000 of the amount paid in." mith the city authorities of Laredo, Tex., offered

BOLD SAFE BLOWERS.

THEY WORK ALMOST OPENLY AND FIRE FUSILLADE WHEN DISTURBED.

Paterson, July 19 (Special).-Burglars broke into the office of the West Park Land Company, in Hilary-st. opposite the Laurel Grove Cemetery last night, blew open the safe, and, after exchang ing shots with a neighbor, escaped. They secures and valuable papers, the property of Superin tendent Van Duyne. The office, a one-story frame structure, held a desk and chairs and a modern sier safe. Agent Harry Stewart received collections until nearly 10 p. m., when he went to his home. 200 yards away. Mr. Stewart often has large sums in his possession, but the burglars evidently did not know that he removed the receipts every night. Benwell family, living near the office, was startled about 2 a. m. by a loud report. A sick child began to cry, and Mr. Benwell heard a crash of glass follow a second report. He looked out of the window and saw a man outside the office and several men inside. He secured his revolver and several men inside. He secured his revolver and shouted:

"Who's there, and what do you want?"
"Get in the house or I'll blow your head off," came back from the man on guard outside.

Benwell fired a shot from the window in the hope of alarming the neighborhood. The burglars ran out, and sent a fusiliade crashing through the windows as they started up the road toward Little Falls. Benwell found Stewart at his door, and both went back to the office. The door of the safe had been blown open.

Prosecutor's Detective Jowett to-day found that Stoner's blacksmith shop, on Stony Road, had been broken open Friday night. A brace and file were stolen, and these were left behind by the burglars last night.

A YOUNG WIFE ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

SHE TAKES PARIS GREEN AFTER AN ALLEGED FAMILY DISPUTE

Elizabeth, July 19 (Special).-Mabel King, wife of Isaac King, of No. 107 Elizabeth-ave., took a dose of paris green this afternoon with suicidal intent. She had quarrelled with her husband, and, it is said, he struck her on the head, inflicting a slight scalp wound. Then the woman, who is only twenty years old, it is stated, became hysterical, an felt so badly that she took the poison. She walked ato her mother's house, next door, and told what the had done. Drs. Stern and Whitehead were immoned, and they administered antidotes. The afferer was afterward removed to the City Hos-tal, where the doctors to-night said she would pital, where the doubter of Constable John Dixon. She lost a child only a month ago. Her sister committed suicide some years ago by shooting herself in the head because George Weimar, who had been paying her some attention, married

A LIQUOR-DEALER DIES FROM LOCKJAW. Plainfield, July 19.-Eugene Hoster, a wholesale liquor-dealer, of North Plainfield, died at his home to-day from lockjaw. He was out driving on July 5, when he was thrown from his wagon by his horse running away. The firsh was torn from the bone in his arm. Blood poisoning set in, and turned into lockjaw on Thursday last. The injured man suffered intense pain until his death. He was thirty-five years of age, a well-known citizen, and leaves a widow.

A CHILD BADLY INJURED.

Hackensack, July 19 (Special).-Ruth Weber daughter of L. A. Weber, of Brooklyn, was shockingly injured at Nanuet, N. Y., yesterday afternoon dy was brought to Hackensack Bospital last night Dr. St. John, of this town. The child was play-t around the barn on her father's summer home the workmen were engaged putting in haw with a cent tackle. The hook fell on the girl, inflicting a four wound on the throat, from which it is feared ELECTRIC LAUNCHES AT PLEASURE BAY. Long Branch, July 19 (Special).-One of the features of summer life at Pleasure Bay, the pretty resort near this city, is the fleet of electric launches resort near this city, is the fleet of electric launches operated by Mr. Falk. Numerous parties from the surrounding resorts go to the bay for the express purpose of riding in these delightful craft, and they are becoming as popular as the rest of the amusements in this vicinity.

I paint those waves when they -(Truth.

BE DEMENTED. Williams, paster of the First Baptist Church, of this city, who left here last Monday to visit a friend in

New-York, is still missing. His wife, who has withstood the severe strain remarkably, is now prostrated with grief. Mr. Williams had expected to return on Monday night or Tuesday, but when he falled to appear on Thursday his wife notified Deacon Richard Williams,

HIS ABSENCE UNEXPLAINED.

FOUND, AND IS THOUGHT TO

who, with James Smith, went to New-York early Friday morning to make inquiries. visited the friend that Mr. Williams had intended to visit, but found that he had not been there. Then they made a tour through the different hospitals, thinking probably that he had been overcome by the heat and had been taken to one of them. finally returned home, after giving the description of the missing preacher to the police, with the disappearance still completely shrouded in mystery

Mrs. Williams showed them, upon their arrival home, a postal card, which she had received from her husband. He stated that he was at Staten Is! attending meetings, and having a good time and that he would return Saturday morning. The news seemed satisfactory to all, and no further lety for his safety was felt. The congregation, num bering over 200 people, waited this morning until 11 o'clock for his appearance, when they were informed by Mrs. Williams that her husband had not returned. A short prayer-meeting, led by Deacon Williams, in which the members prayed for the safe return of their pastor, was held. The service was dismissed at 11:30 o'clock.

It is believed by a majority of Mr. Williams's con gregation that their pastor has lost his mind. Many of them say he has worked beyond his strength to build up the church, which was badly run down when he took charge. Mr. Williams has certainly made a decided change in the attendance. He has also put the church on a solid financial basis, and was punctual in attending to every duty assigned to him as a minister and as a citizen. His services outside of his His services outside of his pulpit were frequently asked for, and his ability as a preacher has long since been recognized. Mr. Williams presented, in the absence of Mayor Blodgett, on , the memorial book in behalf of its donors to the James B. Morris Post, No. 46, Grand Army of the He also delivered the Memorial Day oration at the Town Hall. Mr. Williams was to hav filled the pulpit of the First Baptist Church at Red Bank to-night, having arranged with the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Joseph K. Manning, several weeks ago to exchange pupils.

Mrs. Williams and her three children have occu pied the cottage since Mr. Williams left. Members of the church have been kind to her, but are power less to lend assistance that might lead to his dis-less to lend assistance that might lead to his discovery. The postal card that Mrs. Williams received did not specify where he was stopping. It was dated and postmarke! "New-York."

Mr. Williams took charge of the First Baptist Church in March, succeeding the Rev. G. Benedict Lawson, now located in Bennings, Vt. His last station was at Mahanoy City, Penn., where he was ordained a minister of the Baptist Church. Mr.
Williams's work in the Reading district was to build up weak churches. He came to Long Branch highly recommended, and the people here have been pleased with the choice they had made for pastor.

A QUIET SUNDAY IN CAMP.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS ATTEND CHURCH AND PREPARE FOR A WEEK'S WORK

Camp Griggs, Sea Girt, July 19.—This was a quiet day in the State camp, where the Second Brigade of the National Guard is to pass the week.

The regular routine work of the camp will not begin until to-morrow, and there were no drills to-This was witnessed by many of the summer vis itors from the near-by resorts and was applauded. The men passed the day in playing different games and making their quarters ready for the week. There was divine service this morning on a shaded alongside the cottage of Governor Griggs which was conducted by Chaplain J. Madison Hare, of the 6th Regiment, of Camden. This afternoon Jennings's Band gave a concert. Governor Griggs, Generals Donnelly, Stryker and Sewell and the members of the Governor's staff were on the porch of the house and also listened to the music.

Divine services were also held in the headquarters of the 3d Regiment, of Elizabeth, the 2d Cavalry troop, of Red Bank, and the 7th Regiment, of Tren-There was a sacred concert this evening at the Governor's headquarters. The daily routine will commence at 5:30 o'clock to-morrow, when the reveille will be sounded. Then to-morrow, when the reveille will be sounded. Then will follow company drills at 6 o'clock, lasting half an hour. Breakfast will be served at 6:46 o'clock. Guard mount will take place at 9:30 and at 9:45 there will be regimental drills. Dinner will be served at 11:30, and at 12 o'clock there will follow battalion drills, lasting several hours. Parade will be held at 5:45 o'clock. The tattoo will be sounded at 10 o'clock and taps at 10:30 o'clock.

The men passed their first night in camp quietly and were up early this morning.

SERVICES AT ASBURY PARK.

GREAT RELIGIOUS ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN THERE AND AT OCEAN GROVE.

Asbury Park, July 19 (Special).-Large audiences attended the three services held to-day in the Auditorium on the beach. The Rev. B. Foy Mills preached both in the morning and evening. An address on India was delivered at the National service at 4 p. m. by the Rev. B. Mayhatghat, a native of that country. He was dressed in costume, and told of the peculiar religious and social customs of his peoat the morning service by the Rev. Merritt Hubbard, or Wilmington, Del. His theme was "Work, for Night is Coming." Many delegates to the Second District Epworth League convention were present. There were nearly three thousand pupils present in the several departments of the Sabbath-school, and fully ten thousand attended the vesper service on the beach. The sermon at the evening service was preached by the Rev. J. H. Coleman, of Albany, N. Y.

AN UNKNOWN MAN RUN DOWN.

Engine No. 738, of the Lehigh Vailey road, in charge of Conductor John C. Schaefer and Engineer William Roberts, both of South Easton, Penn., at 20 o'clock this evening ran down an unknown mar who was walking on the track in Bayonne. The train was a freight and going at moderate speed. The man, who was about forty-five years old, was seriously injured about the head and body and will probably die. He was taken to the Bayonne Hospital Frank Fuller, of No. 12 Grove-st., Jersey City, witnessed the accident.

PASSAIC DEMOCRATS AT ODDS. From The Passaic News

From The Passaic News.

Has Michael Dunn the boss bee in his bonnet? No sooner did Prosecutor Geurley express his disgust with the mixture of free silver and Anarchy served up by the Chicago conglimeration and express a purpose to go to Europe than Mr. Dunn blossomed out as an ardent free silvertie. Unless all signs fail, Mr. Dunn has as his ulterior purpose the control of Mr. Gourley's political machine, the County Committee. This machine has been kept well oliod and greased by Mr. Gourley for several years, and it has made the task of controlling conventions and naming local candidates as easy as sliding off a log. The feeling between himself and Mr. Dunn has been anthing but brotherly, and so Mr. Dunn has never figured very prominently in his party's politics. Now he sees his chance to turn the tables, and seizes it. But unless all signs fail, he is working for a dead horse. The Democracy will be walloped so badly and so flattened out in November that it will require a new broom to sweep up the scattered pieces of the old machine. Mr. Gourley is long-headed. He sees the wrath to come and wisely flees from it. If he lives long enough to see the Democracy gather itself together again he will hear the members clamoring for his services and insisting on his nomination for some high office.

AVARICE THEIR RUIN.

THE REV. GEORGE WILLIAMS CANNOT BE TWO JERSEY CITY THIEVES CAUGHT BY THEIR OWN FOOLHARDINESS.

Long Branch, July 19 (Special).—The Rev. George INNOCENT MEN NEARLY PUNISHED FOR A SAFE ROBBERY OF WHICH THEY KNEW NOTH-

ING-THE CULPRITS ADMIT

THEIR GUILT.

Two innocent men would probably have been sent to State prison for a safe robbery in Jersey City if the avarice of the thieves had not tempted them to enter into negotiations for the sale of the checks and notes they had stolen to the man they had robbed. George W. Lawrence is a coal dealer at No. 296 Fairmount-ave. He went home to dinner at noon on Friday. July 10, leaving the office in charge of James Leonard, of No. 398 West Side-ave., a employed as messenger and helper, and James Hebert, a colored man, living at No. 634 Communipawave., who was engaged as a driver. The door of the safe was open, but the money drawer of the safe, which contained $100 and checks and notes for $700, was locked. When Mr. Lawrence returned the money drawer was open and its contents were missing. The drawer had been pried open. The police were so positive that the two employes were the thieves that Leonard and Hebert were arrested. After examination by the Police Justice they were held for trial, although they stoutly protested their innocence.

Three days after the robbery Mr. Lawrence re ceived a letter postmarked "Newark," and signed A. B. C. The writer stated he was in possession of the stolen checks and notes, and if Mr. Lawrence desired to recover them he could insert a personal in a New-York newspaper stating the amount he would pay for the paper. He consulted Police Captain Cox, who conferred with Chief Murphy, The personal was inserted that a liberal sum would be paid. This was indefinite and unsatisfactory, as a letter was received that had been mailed in New-York in which it was stated that the writer lesired to know the exact amount, and a guarantee that no one would be punished. Another personal was put in saying that $100 would be paid, with a

On Saturday evening a boy called on Mr. Lawrence with an envelope, which held some of the checks, and a note requesting Mr. Lawrence to send some one with the boy and the money promised. Lawrence told the boy that he was alone and could not then leave, but instructed him to return in half an hour. Mr. Lawrence, who had been advised by the police, communicated with Captain Cox, who, with Detective Larkins, waited for and followed the boy on his second visit. The boy accosted two men at Bergen-ave, and Montgomery-st., and while they tain and detective pounced on and arrested them.

The men declared that they were strangers to each other. The boy registered as Charles Kenn, thirteen years old, of No. 713 Harford-st., Baltimore Md. The men were William Smith, twenty-ning years old, of No. 125 Newark-ave, Jersey City, and Elmer Brown, forty-five years old, of No. 10 Gablest., Newark. A loaded revolver was found on Smith, Chief Murphy interrogated the prisoners yesterday morning. They stuck to the story that they are strangers, and the boy insisted that he was engaged by a man in New-York, who was to wait for him at the ferry-house. Chief Murphy communicated with the Baltimore police and learned that Kenn is about sixteen years old and is a slick young thief. The Chief had another talk with the prisoners individually yesterday afternoon. Detective Pearson, who brought the from their cells at Police Headquarters, remarked after he had returned Brown to his cell: fellow has been here before, Chief. He did a bur giary in Greenville, and his 'mug' is in the Gallery The detective booked and extracted Picture No. 758 labelled William Morgan. The Chief read the description on the back of the card and said, description on the back of the card and said, "Go down and bare that fellow's arm and see if 'Katy' is not tatrooed on it. A minute later the detective returned with the prisoner, whose sleeve was rolled up. The tatroo marks were there.

Morgan was sent to State Prison in 1891 for four years and six months for burglary. He said that he was released in September and had since been honest. He finally confessed that he and Smith had robbed the safe. Smith also admitted his guilt. The latter's record is not known to the police, but they are convinced that he is a professional, and fley will make an investigation to ascertain something of his antecedents before he is sentenced for the crime for which two innocent men almost suffered. The thieves stole into the office while the employes were talking in the yard. It took only a second to wrench open the cash drawer with a jimmy and The thieves stole into the office while the employes were talking in the yard. It took only a second to wrench open the cash drawer with a jimmy and pocket the contents.

WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.

CONSECRATION OF THE CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY AT SPRING LAKE.

Spring Lake, July 19 (Special) .- The Church of the Holy Trinity, the handsomest Episcopal church building on the Northern New-Jersey coast, was consecrated to-day with fitting ceremonies, two Bishops, assisted by a number of distinguished priests from Philadelphia and other cities, taking part in the the lost. Philadelphia and other cities, taking part in the

The church, of which the Rev. John F. Nichole is the rector, is in Monmouth-ave., at the head of th picturesque lake from which the resort derives its name. It cost $10,000, and was built in 1880. Its mem bership includes many millionaires from Philadelphia. The sacrament of the holy communion was celebrated at 8 o'clock to-day. Then followed, at 11 o'clock, the consecration service. The building was crowded to the doors, and hundreds were unable to gain admittance.

The opening prayer was said by the rector. The followed a hymn, sung by a boy choir from Philadelphia. Miss Frances I. Brock was the organist. The music was of an unusually high order. The Right Rev. John Scarborough, of Trenton, Bishop of the Diocese of New-Jersey, conducted the consecration service.

service complimented the trustees and members for their zeal in the cause of Christ and urged them to continue the good work. The consecration serme followed. It was delivered by the Right Rev. Nelson followed. It was delivered by the Right Rev. Nelson S. Rulison, Bishop of the Central Pennsylvania Diocese. He selected for his text a portion of Psalm XCII: "Strength and beauty are in the sanctuary." It was a masterly sermon, replete with the Christian's hope. Seated within the chancel were the Rev. Dr. Elwood Wooster, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia: the Rev. Dr. Parrott, of Manayunk, Penn., and the Rev. Dr. Van Rensalaer, a former president of Deveaux College, Rochester, N. Y.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY.

EMINENT INSTRUCTORS SELECTED FOR THE COURSE AT OCEAN GROVE.

Ocean Grove, July 19 (Special).-The Ocean Grov Summer School of Theology will convene August 5 and continue until August 14. The school is in charge of the Rev. Dr. J. E. Price, of Sing Sing, N. Y. The instructors selected are as follows: Philosophic and systematic theology—The Rev. Borden Parker Bowne, LL. D., professor of philosophy, Boston University; the Rev. Joseph Agar Beet, D. D., professor of systematic theology, Wesleyan College, Richmond, England.

Old Testament-The Rev. Dr. Henry M. Harman, D. D., emeritus professor of Greek and Hebrew Dickinson College.

New Testament-J. C. Van Benschoten, LL. D.

professor of Greek language and literature, Weslevan University; Bishop Charles H, Fowler, D. D. LL. D.; the Rev. Julius E. Grammer, D. D., Baltimore. Historical theology—The Rev. Bishop John

Fletcher Hurst, D. D., chancellor of the American University, Washington, D. C. Hermeneutles-The Rev. S. P. Cadman, Metro-politan Temple, New-York.

Biblical theology and physical science-The Rev

J. E. Price, dean. Pastoral theology—The Rev. George K. Morris, D. D., professor of practical theology, Boston University; the Rev. S. F. Upham, D. D., professor of pastoral theology, Drew Theological Seminary; the Rev. George Elliott, D. D., Philadelphia.
Special—Dr. Homer B. Sprague, the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, D. D., president of the Armour Institute of Technology, Chicago; Mrs. Margaret Bottome, president of the International Order of King's Daughters and King's Sons; Major J. B. Pond, of New-York.
Lectures—The Rev. Robert Nourse, D. D., of Wilmington; Senator John B. Gordon, of Georgia; the Rev. Robert McIntyre, D. D., of Donver, the Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, of Chicago; the Rev. Revsell H. Conwell, D. D., of Philadelphia, and, the Rev. James M. Buckley, D. D., Editor of "The Christian Advocate," New-York.
The sermons will be preached by Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, D. D., Lt. D., and the Rev. Dr. S. F. Upham, of Drew Theological Seminary. Pastoral theology-The Rev. George K. Morris,

AN EXCURSIONIST DROWNED. Atlantic City, July 19.-While in bathing at the end of Missouri-ave to-day, T. Kelly, of Phila-delphia, an excursionist, was drowned. His body was recovered. He was not far out in the surf and it is supposed that he suffered an attack of cramps, which resulted in his death.

Pratt Fasteners hold shoe laces securely without tying a knot Are now an indispensable structural feature of all lace shoes. No lace shoe is complete without them. All our lace shoes are finished with them. BRILL BROS. 47 Cortlandt St., N. Y. City.

00000000000

THE TEMPTER'S WILES.

HOW THE CHRISTIAN SHOULD COMBAT THEM.

SERMON OF THE REV. ARNEY S. BIDDLE, OF JERSEY CITY-FAITH IN GOD THE ONLY SHIELD AGAINST THE DARTS OF THE ENEMY.

"Temptations" was the subject of the Rev. Arney S. Biddle's sermon last evening at the Summit Avenue United Presbyterian Church Jersey City. His text was from Ephesians vi 16: "Withal taking up the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the flery darts of the evil one." He said:

The Jews were a warlike people, their men of renown, in most cases, were such as had achieved greatness by the sword. Their religion knew no compromise with the religions of the surrounding nations. Jehovah's glory of the surrounding nations. Jehovah's glory could not be divided with any of the false gods. could not be divided with any of the false gods. Their hymns were full of warlike figures, and, although they expressed a literal physical conflict, they also expressed a spiritual conflict more mighty and fraught with greater results than that of any earthly battlefield. The expressions of Paul, in this sixth chapter of Ephesians, would be familiar to all wherever this letter might come.

Ephesians, would be familiar to all wherever this letter might come.

These darts represent the temptations which annoy and possibly threaten to destroy our souls. The fiery dart among the Romans consisted of a hollow reed, to the lower part of which, under the point or barb, was fastened a round receptacle made of fron, for combustible materials, so that such an arrow had the form of a distaff. This was filled with burning naphtha, and when the arrow or dart was shot from a slack bow it struck the enemies' ranks, and tha, and when the arrow or dart was shot from a slack bow it struck the enemies' ranks, and temained fixed, the flame consuming whatever it met with. Water poured on it increased its violence, and there were no other means to extinguish it, but by throwing earth upon it.

Like these darts, our tempitations are sharp.
They will penetrate men's philosophical armor

They will penetrate men's philosophical armound cause the stoutest of heart to quall. The are fiery, being themselves set on fire of hell. As the fiery darts of the warrior caused a conflagration of material which otherwise would have been most useful, so these temptations, if once yielded to, will damage and guin our souls. temptations may come to us from unex-These temptations pected sources.

We may be tempted to be selfish. We desire

We may be tempted to be selfish. With others, it is

We may be tempted to be selfsh. We desire all for our own gratification. With others, it is the deceitfulness of riches—not that wealth is itself a source of sin—but the "Love of money is the root of evil."

The cares of this world, like thousands of small, sharp, flery darts, assail us on every side. What shall we eat? what shall we drink? and wherewithal shall we be clothed? presses upon men to-day just as hard as it did in the days of nen to-day just as hard as it did in the days of wherewithal shall we be clothed? presses upon men to-day just as hard as it did in the days of Christ, eighteen centuries ago.

Temptations of just, intemperance and all the lower forms of sensual enjoyment are assailing humanity, and wounded souls are writhing in agony and crying for deliverance.

There is a defence from these darts—the shield of faith. The Roman soldiers used a large, oblong, oval, doorlike shield, four feet long by two and a half broad—not the small, round buckler—and with this shield they successfully defended themselves from these burning arrows.

The Apostle does not say, "Fight these arrows with sword and spear," for such weapons would be useless. So there are temptations which may assail us that we cannot resist by the mere use of the sword of the spirit—the Word of God. As has been said by a noted divine, "We must get on higher ground." If we continue to dwell in the lower element of our nature, the enemy can easily hurl his darts upon us. But if, by faith in God, we ascend to the higher realm of His love, Satan's arrows cannot reach us. We must trust God for many things we do not understand. God for many things we do not under stand.

We must believe in His omniscience, His love, His justice, His power to help. We must have our confidence in Him as the best friend humanity ever had, and, with a sense of His abiding presence and love, say to the tempter: "How can I do this and sin against God?"

We should sympathize with the fallen. Never scornfully condemn them, as though we belonged to a superior order of creation, but, ready to help them in their peril, so shall we receive the well-known Philadelphia undertaker, died here this morning at the summer home of his daughter on Asbury-ave. He was seventy-four years old. MRS. MILTON DEMAREST. Hackensack, July 19 (Special).-Mrs. Carrie W.

OBITUARY.

EDWARD S. EARLY. Asbury Park, July 19 (Special).-Edward S. Early.

Christie, wife of Milton Demarest, and daughter of the late Jonathan Christie, died yesterday. She was thirty-nine years old and had been ill for two

GEORGE W. LOCKWOOD. Rutherford, July 19 (Special).-George W. Lockwood, at one time a wealthy New-York business man, died suddenly on Friday at No. 47 Donaldson-

Being in failing health, Mr. Lockwood had gone Being in failing health, Mr. Lockwood had gone to the mountains several months ago, but was called back to Jersey City on Monday to attend the hearing of the divorce case of Dr. Henry D. White against Mrs. White. The latter is Mr. Lockwood's adopted daughter. Mr. White had named Mr. Lockwood as corespondent. Mr. Lockwood was overcome in the courtroom and was brought to Rutherford, where he died. The funeral took place to-day and the burial was at Woodlawn. He was sixty-eight years old, a widower and leaves two daughters.

MRS. HARRIET NIVEN.

Hackensack, July 19 (Special).-Mrs. Harriet Niven, widow of Walter H. Stevens, of Stevensville, N. Y., and a member of the Niven family, well known in New-York State, died here this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Smith. She was seventy-eight years old.

MRS. EMMA E. ADAIR.

Somerville, July 19 (Special).—Mrs. Emma E. Adair, widow of James Adair, died at her home in this place on Friday night. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon. James Adair died in March last. Mrs. Adair was Emma C. Reed before her marriage. She was born in New-York on February 16, 1835. Mr. and Mrs. Adair moved to this county twenty years ago. Mrs. Adair was beloved for her sweet, retiring disposition, and her death is mourned by many friends. She leaves a son, Dr. Frank Adair, and a daughter, the wife of Milton Labaw, a grocer of this place.

MISS JOSEPHINE E. COOK.

Bloomfield, July 19 (Special).—Miss Josephine E. Cook, daughter of G. W. Cook, died at her father's home, No. 424 Franklin-st., here, on Friday evening from typhoid fever, after an illness of several She was twenty-four years old, and was Miss Cook was extremely popular in church and society circles. She was a member of the Westminster Fresbyterian Church, and at the time of her death was secretary of the Mission Board connected with that church. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon at her father's house.

EDWARD HENNESSY.

Long Branch, July 19 (Special).—Edward Hennessy, forty-five years old, one of the best-known pound fishermen on the Jersey coast, died suddenly last night of heart failure. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, American Mechanics, Foresters and Knights of Pythias. He leaves a widow and five children.

THE NEW M. E. CHURCH AT ORANGE.

Orange, July 19 (Special).—Special services were held to-day in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, in South-st., to celebrate the taking possession by the church of its new building. There were able ser-mons preached by the Rev. Littleton Sturgis, presiding elder of the district, at the morning and even ing services. There were special services by the children of the Sunday-school in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the Rev. J. H. Travis, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, of Newark, made an address at 3 o'clock. All the services were largely at tended.